 Managing Editor Business Manager

FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1913

The British budget for the year is more than thirty millions. Lloyd George seems to be a Fielding in the matter of making things come out on the right side.

Mr. Borden is to take a holiday in the United States. Some western farmers could afford to do the same if he could let them sell their wheat and cattle where he spends his holidays.

Three business and apartment blocks have been added to Greater Edmonton's building program. The list is a long one already, and promises to grow as the season advances, provided labor is available to carry on the projected undertakings.

If Captain Scott did not get to the South Pole first the chances are that he got there second, and so far as service to the cause of science is concerned the researches and surveys being made by his party will amount to more than the "discovery" of a dozen poles.

Something it hardly seems consistent that the Canadian Premier can spend his holidays in the United States without contamination, while the Canadian farmer must not be allowed to take "Yankee dollar" in exchange for what or cattle, lest his loyalty become infected.

A disagreement between the CPR and the freight handlers may result in a strike which would "tie-up traffic" on the western lines. Thanks to that traffic being already about as badly tied up as possible, the result on the grain movement would not be as serious as otherwise. There are compensating considerations in pretty nearly any situation.

The Montreal Gazette argues that as Moose Jaw is to hold a celebration on Easter Monday there cannot be much ground for the complaints of the Grange. The reason is that in time the Moose Jawites have means and the disposition to celebrate; the farmers must be without proper cause for protest against the existing tariff arrangements. A parallel argument would be that so long as Montrealers have the money and the time to go to the races, there can be little or nothing in a complaint from the farmers of Quebec that they are being paid too little and charged too much by the monopolists who buy their produce and the merchants which sell them manufactured goods. The question is to what extent or whether people are optimistic, or whether they show their optimism by getting up celebrations, but whether the western country is less well off without free trade in farm products than it would be with it. Nobody has claimed that conditions here might not be worse, as the Moose Jaw people evidently justified in demonstrating to the world their appreciation of the blessings that have not been denied them. Western Canada is a good country to live in, even without free trade in farm products. It would be a much better country to live in if the farmer were allowed to sell his products where there is a better market for them than there is at home.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BAR-GAINS.

The Edmonton Journal is very much displeased with the Legislature of the Province for having authorized the city of Calgary to assess unassessed land within the city at something like its real value. A private man, it seems, may do this with the holders of certain land near the city whereby their land should be taken into the city but should be assessed at a nominal value only until surveyed. The assumption no doubt was that the owners would subdivide the land and then resell it and put it upon the market. They turned out, however, to be more avaricious than supposed and held the land unsurveyed, claiming the right to be assessed only at $50 per acre. The city got tired of this and at the last session of the legislature asked the Legislature to rescind the request, and the land has been assessed accordingly. The owners appealed to the courts and got the worst of it. The Journal now takes up their cause and challenges the Legislature for having given the right to assess the bargain made by a previous council. Had the Legislature done the opposite no doubt it would have been quite as warmly assailed for refusing a reasonable request from the authorities of a city.

The sense of the matter is that the property owners are really injured by the increase in the assessment, though they claim to think they are hurt. Edmonton has found out, in its experience with the Hudson Bay company, that put a high assessment on undivided property is not an injury to the owners of the property. An assessment is really a declaration of the community of what is the value of a piece of property in comparison with other property. Does it injure a man's interests to have the community declare to the world that his property is worth not fifty dollars per acre but two thousand dollars per acre? The Hudson Bay authorities had no more reason to back on a foolish undertaking, but they have done no substantial injustice to the other party to the transaction.

On the contrary, they have put a value on the property higher than the owners claimed for it, and to that extent have done the owners a service. The fault lies not with the Legislature but with the officials of the city of Calgary, and whatever the fault may be it is not that substantial injury has been done the owners of the property by declaring this to be city property instead of farm land.

It would be a good idea, however, to make the incidents of the law by depriving city and town councils generally of the power to "tax in" property under any arrangement as to fixed assessment. City or town boundaries should only be extended when there is some valid reason for extending them, and when that is done the new boundaries should be given all the benefits and subject to all the penalties of city property.

Land taken into a city when there is a real need of the boundaries being extended does not require or deserve immunity from taxation, for city property it is worth more than the surrounding property. As far as it is for the benefit of it, the burden so placed upon them, the annexed territory should be supplied with walks, lights and all public services as specifically possible.

A FRENCH PROPOSAL.—The Quebec Chronicle has published an article which is tucked away somewhere, forecasting the naval policy of the Borden Government. The article lays down as a first principle that Canada will give no assistance to Great Britain in naval matters unless given specific permission by the Admiralty. It also states that the Imperial control commanding the movements of the fleet in which the Canadian vessels are listed. The plan is to abandon the "one throne, one flag, one fleet" motto which has been inscribed so prominently upon the colors of the Canadian admirals who have come to the rescue of the British Admiralty, but—of an imperial board on which Canada and each other Dominion would have representation, and this Imperial squadron each of the Dominion and the Old Land would contribute super-dreadnoughts. Canada's initial contribution to the squadron is placed at two dreadnoughts—costing about ten millions of dollars each.

The Imperial squadron would be a naval force only. In fact, it would consist of a dozen or more of these ships scattered all over creation doing police duty on the trade routes. All the ships would thus be too far away to join the British battle-line speedily for a life and death struggle in European waters, strong enough to offer serious opposition to an attacking squadron threatening the ports and coasts of the Dominion to which it belonged.

Britain's donation to the Imperial squadron would necessarily weaken her ability to keep the high seas free to the world, considered necessary, and the supremacy of which is paramount in importance—to Canada and the other Dominions as to Britain. The over-seas Dominions, having put their money into dreadnoughts, would not of course be able to build protected cruisers to aid protected cruisers to which the dreadnoughts were sent out to Britain in European waters. Their shipping would thus be at the mercy of any kind of commerce destroyer that might be sent by an enemy to cut off the food supplies of the Mother Land.

The scheme may or may not be an outline of the Borden policy. Whether it is or not, the vital objections to it are more numerous than the dreadnoughts in the proposed Imperial squadron.

THE FATAL GRADE CROSSING

Freight Train Crashes Into Car Crushing Life Out of It

Chicago, April 4.—A mother with her baby clasped in her arms and an eight year old sister were crushed to death today when a Chicago and Alton railroad freight train crashed into a street car. Eighteen other persons were injured, mainly women.

Miss Irene, her two months old baby and a sister, Miss Kate Oberlin. The car containing 28 passengers was in the middle of the grade crossing when the train drove over it. It was overturned and demolished. The passengers were buried beneath the wreckage.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S NEWS

BASKETBALL—Good pitching won game for Washington. Game against Philadelphia—Philadelphia was defeated 26-22. The team has been winning bases in games with California and Canada. Nationals win. Why the bus league products return to the bus league.

THE RING—Porter had work out at the Great American Auditorium yesterday. Riley will be at the gym.

VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

Today the summer sports season will be opened. For the past few weeks preparations have been made for the season and numerous meetings held. Today the first games will be played. Soccer will be the principal item of the day although the most important will be the basketball game at the Y.M.C.A. in the evening.

The baseball game to be played at the Y.M.C.A. this evening is for the championship of the province of Alberta. The championship is at present held by the Edmonton team, although they were defeated by a majority of eleven points in the first game of the present series at Calgary. Tonight with a team slightly changed and considerably stronger and on home ground, Edmonton is going to make a bold attempt to recover the lost ground. That the battle will be strenuous one is certain.

On April 15; Leo Kossick and Mickey McElroy are going to box a fifteen round fight at the Victoria Auditorium. Porter is going to refer to the bout. Saskatoon is going to be quite a boxing centre. There are probably more pugilists to the square inch in the Saskatchewan town than in any town in Canada. It promises to become as noted in that respect, Rino or Bassano.

What the baseball moulds going to do at Calgary today? Leo Kossick and Mickey McElroy are going to box a fifteen round fight at the Victoria Auditorium. The west have been promoted to a Class C ball and day reduction of salary limit will be educated to the Class C ball and any reduction of salary limit will suffice. If the league is ever going to be put on a paying basis it must be with the high salary limit.

The big leagues open in less than a week. The teams are all in conference now and time for the daily practice games. The practice games are no indication of the strength of the teams, but of course every fan is picking winners already. Some are going so far as to even pick winners for the world's series.

IN GENERAL—Jimmy Howlett signs up some men for his Monday letter of Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. Jimmy Howlett, same insight—La crosser in Saskatoon.

It is not to be wondered that so many glittering tales are told in the papers about the prospects of the young men in the amateur ranks much more quickly than the veterans, they show to advantage in the spring games. The young men are the future. The veteran, as a rule, is not worried about his job, while the young man is worried about his job and his impression on the manager if he is to retain his hold in fast company. Nature is stirred to greater effort. He always has been, but the young things slowly, depending on his class, always do their best in the proper time.

CALGARY TEAM CONFIDENT

Calgary, April 4 (Special).—With the confidence inspired by their victory of 10 to 9 over the Terrene Central team last night for Edmonton on the road, the Calgary team is a regular joy in fast company. Scouts, players and manager are certain that the team is a good one and provided he has the confidence in himself when playing in the regular stadium.

The team has been running hard and the fans are excited in better condition than when they downed the Terrene Central team last night and margin to spare. Mel Swanson, the famous catcher, ran well and may tonight. Mel has played centre and has been a good player. His presence in the floor will mean a great deal in the success of the Calgary team.

The team will line up as follows: Stewart, Ward, Gandy, Snowdon, Centre, Stevens, Guard, Watt and Bingle.

WHY THEY GO BACK.

Lewis McElroy explains the failure of many a promising youngster to star in the Big leagues. Ask him why.

Year after year the minor send their crop of choice players to the big show, but few return with the label, "National club" this time.

Their return comes as a big surprise to the adherents of these players in the bush leagues, to say nothing of the managers who had pursued their phenomenal records during their minor days.

The club owner, the bus owner who paid a fancy price, believing he had picked up a real midget, is shocked to see the minors today and asks, "What are you?"

There are in the minors today a number of players who possess far more ability than the major leaguers.

It is almost impossible to understand why these players do not get into the majors.

Some players have gone to the big show from others who have not been in the minors, but the bus owner who has confidence in his players, when they are breaking over, whether he will fail or will harden up, is the one who try out with Calvary and other clubs.

Many of the fans are ready to believe he had picked up a real midget, but the fans are ready with stories relating to the records of the various minor, league teams. If the fan could see the work of the new players, it would be a cinch for him to believe that the minor club can't win the pennant in a walk.

But unfortunately many of the players are not midgets, but are big boys.

Very often players from the same league who do not look half so good, are the ones who are chosen to play in fast company.

NATIONAL ABILITY NOT ALL.

Nature's ability is a wonderful asset, but very often players who show big league class in every movement, are not the ones who are chosen.

One can recall now pitcher who is warming up today who has a great breaking curve and good chance of pace.

These chaps act as for a display of something that is not in the minor class—something that is worth while in baseball.

Whitey, the star pitcher, is the one that such and such player is, easily the class of the league. Very often the bus owner who has confidence in his players, when they are breaking over, whether he will fail or will harden up, is the one who try out with Calvary and other clubs.

There are in the minors today a number of players who possess far more ability than the major leaguers.

It is almost impossible to understand why these players do not get into the majors.

Some players have gone to the big show from others who have not been in the minors, but the bus owner who has confidence in his players, when they are breaking over, whether he will fail or will harden up, is the one who try out with Calvary and other clubs.

Their return comes as a big surprise to the adherents of these players in the bush leagues, to say nothing of the managers who had pursued their phenomenal records during their minor days.

The club owner, the bus owner who paid a fancy price, believing he had picked up a real midget, is shocked to see the minors today and asks, "What are you?"

AROUND THE CITY

LOCAL

Owing to the closing Good Friday the University extension lecture series at Mackay avenue school will not be held. John C. McCormick, of Falhamton, Sask., who has been in the city for dredging, said he would leave this afternoon on a six weeks' trip to the Orient.

The beautiful sacred canaria, "Chirita Seven Last Words," (Duke of York's bird) was in the All Sainte church choir on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. This will be the first time this famous work has been rendered by the West's most clever voice.

CASES WITHDRAWN

The case against Frank Goode, proprietor of the St. James Hotel, has been withdrawn. He was charged with keeping more than one bar in licensed premises. The prosecution will make no further move in connection with the attorney general's department.

ENTERTAINMENTS

"MIS NODDY FROM STANHORN"

With not one dull moment, full of action, comedy, music, music numbers, with gorgeous costumes and wonderful scenic effects, "Mis Noddy from Stanhorn" is a far more than agreeable offering at the Empire Theatre on April 22, 23, 24. The best and most popular of the many notable productions placed before the public by Mort H. Shiner.

"ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE."

Mr. Paul Armstrong, who first came to Edmonton with his company of comedy, a short time hence created a sensation in the theatrical world by his first production, "Alias Jimmy Valentine." In this charming play Mr. Armstrong presents a theme of personal import which concerns the relations between every thinking man and woman in the land.

The powerful play, with a production complete in every detail, will be the offering of Geo. L. Summers and his troupe at the Empire Theatre for three nights and Saturday matinees commencing Monday, April 8.

"THE GIRL FROM RECTOR'S."

"The Girl From Rector's" was given a warm welcome by a large audience at the Forum, where it was presented last night. The company, which appears to be without a name, is well liked and the audience was quite pleased. If any, by the extenuations which have been made in its favor, can be found, the play is easily being retained and the elongated engagements another one wither away. It is the opinion of the residents that they are just as well satisfied on their own merits as on the depreciated value of the signatures to the petition to include Lauderdale.

The signatures were taken at various points in the city, where there is a much larger residential population, and it is believed that the signatures are to be opposed to being included within the city. Calder has its own position, and felt that if they did so they would be in opposition to the wishes of the Calder people voting down the Elles Parkites voting down the Elles Parkites.

"Puckaboo."

In regard to the petition, the legislative committee have prepared the following report for submission to the council:

"The committee recommend that such general regulations governing the incorporation of new subdivisions be introduced into the corporation limits (such regulations to include such additional requirements as may be necessary) as would in every way encourage and foster manufacturers for the production of goods, including tanneries, varnish factories, etc., to such an extent as would accommodate the needs of the community being brought in this location; these regulations, however, should not be so stringent as to prohibit the admission of federal and provincial regulations. The committee feel that a thorough examination of the territory outside of the city limits would clearly establish in that locality without arousing the opposition of any body of persons established in that locality."

VOL. II, NO. 285.

GREATEST INDUSTRIAL STRUGGLE IN BRITAIN'S HISTORY IS ENDED

Executive of Miners' Federation Declares the Coal Strike Terminated.

A MAJORITY OF 43,000 AGAIN RESUMING WORK

Fifty Thousand Miners Went Down Into the Pits Yesterday.

London, April 4.—The Miners' Federation after a long conference decided to advise all the miners in Great Britain to resume work.

The decision of the executive of the Miners' Federation is only the first step toward officially terminating the strike, and the final conference of the two federations will now determine whether or not the advice of the executive shall be adopted. A surprise awaited the executive committee of the Miners' Federation when, after attending the ballot of the miners, the figures disclosed an unexpectedly large majority of 43,000 against resumption of work, out of a total vote of 45,000.

Two-Thirds Majority.

The executive, however, finally decided to advise the miners to resume to declare a strike a two-thirds majority, which was necessary to continue it. They resolved, therefore, to advise the miners to resume work when the advice of the executive of the whole Federation for Saturday, when the recommendation of the executive committee will be considered.

Meanwhile large numbers of miners in the various coal districts, with an average of 40,000 miners per lea, returned to the pits. Fully 40,000 miners went down the shafts today.

Review of Strike.

The strike, which has now been terminated, will be the greatest industrial war in the history of Great Britain. On March 1st, 1900, 500,000 miners laid down their tools and left the pits. The miners' demands between the miners' representatives and the mine operators, the government and the coal companies. Unsuccessful efforts were made to secure a state of agreement between the miners and the government in the absence of Premier Asquith, but these proved so ineffectual that the government introduced a general wage bill, which established as law the maximum for which the miners went on strike.

Another deadlock followed, when the miners demanded that the rate of wages be fixed in the bill. The Prime Minister absolutely refused to do this, and the bill was passed as originally drawn, providing that district boards appointed by the government should fix the minimum wage in the various districts at the minimum wage still received by the Royal Commission in March.

A referendum of the miners was then taken on the question as to whether they would agree to return to work under the new conditions. Industrial workers had voted to return to work at the minimum wage bill. The result of the vote, while a majority was returning to work, was such as to make a prolonged industrial impasse inevitable before the final count was announced. Many thousands of miners had returned to work at the minimum wage of the country.

Headquarters of the miners, over ten million men employed in other industries, were thrown out of work as a result of the coal strike, according to the strike leaders. The police services that cut out the whole of England, Scotland and Wales were curtailed as to reduce the minimum wage.

The distress among the families of the miners who had been directly affected by the strike was widespread, and many kitchens were established in the houses to provide food for people who were on the verge of starvation.

The cost of living is estimated to have cost the Miners' Federation over 15,000,000 in strike pay, and other unions were compelled to contribute out-of-pocket bonds over $2,000,000.

The loss in trade to the country, caused by the strike, is estimated at $100,000,000, with a loss of 100,000,000 of accuracy.

It is expected it will be a normal week or two months before conditions are again normal, and the effects of the strike will undoubtedly be felt for a long time to come.

It is generally admitted that the miners were victorious in their strike.

Premier Has Heard Nothing of Proposal Alleged to Have Been Made to the C.N.R.

W. H. Clarke, president of the Grand Alberta and Great Waterways Company, who has been requested to release the miners derived from the sale of the bonds of the railway company, and which have been held by the Canadian National Railway, London, has written to Mr. Tait to assure him that the Alberta Government will loan him $1,000,000 of said money for the furtherance of the plans of the Alberta and Great Waterways Railways.

Premier Silton was interviewed by the bulletin and asked as to the meaning of the statement contained in this despatch. "This is the first I have ever heard of such an agreement," he said.

NAVVIIES WONDERING WHY THEY ARE FINED

Industrial Workers of the World on Strike on April 1st—Will Be Brought to Trial in New Leader—Austrian Laborers May Form a Federation of Their Own.

Yankton, April 4.—Quiet still prevails among the striking navvies gathered at the Industrial Workers of the World headquarters here, but reports from the various camps along the line tell the same story. But for the fact that there are a few more strikes than there are camps, one could not tell that there was a strike on. Two arrests were made yesterday, the first in the timber camp. One Austrian, somewhat the worse for liquor, and inclined to fight, was captured and held in custody, and a negro was taken into custody for creating a disturbance in the camp.

Police Superintendent Campbell had a conference with the leaders of the strikers, and the result of the negotiations was that the miners would not want to create any trouble and would do all they could to keep the peace. The miners are not causing a cause and violence on their part would only do them harm.

Opening up for Navigation.

Duluth, Minn., April 4.—Fort William, Ontario, is marking off three days awaiting the first chance to push the ice back from the lake shore.

The invitation to the annual meeting of the Canadian National Association of Trained Nurses began here today.

The meeting is to be held next week.

The weather was cold and wet yesterday and the men who have been working at the port of entry found it necessary to find shelter in their tents and headquarters. With Canadian grain towards the South, in the harbor there are five million bushels of grain, and the grain, lined with brick, was also put up for the commissioners' department.

There are men here who make money and save it, are gone to find work elsewhere, and there are others, those who are poor, who are already dissatisfied with the way things are going. Some of the poor and the young are getting a job, and those that they are getting, and rail at them as though they had forced them to do it.

Some who have been denied work by the strike leaders are beginning to wonder what right the committee have to take their money.

The Australian Laborers' Federation, the percentage of those left in town, are becoming very sullen, and are inclined to form a separate organization.

To Induce Ice in Washington.

Seattle, Wash., April 4.—In Bonney Lake, Washington, the Industrial Workers of the World have turned up a number of lumber mills, quiet prevailed today after the miners had been evicted from the timber camps.

The result of the strike, while a majority was returning to work, was such as to make a prolonged industrial impasse inevitable before the final count was announced. Many thousands of miners had returned to work at the minimum wage bill.

Some who have been denied work by the strike leaders are beginning to wonder what right the committee have to take their money.

L.W. in San Diego.

San Diego, April 4.—Following the expulsion of 369 members of the Industrial Workers of the World from the city, and the announcement that others were to be deported, the labor agitation here has been suspended. The miners, who had been armed with rifles guarded the city boundary last night to see that the railroad men did not gain admittance to the city.

WALK RISK RATES.

Insurgence Against War Between Germany, France and Great Britain.

London, April 4.—The Times says that the British government has issued a circular to the admiralty, the navy and the army, to insure against the risk of an outbreak of war between Germany, France and Great Britain.

Six per cent. was paid to insure against the war breaking out between Germany and France within twelve months. This rate compares with four per cent. quoted on a similar risk in the middle of last month.

The famous actor goes to Ottawa by way of New York, where he will remain during the coming session of amateur drama.

Shooting After in Underworld.

Winnipeg, Man., April 4.—A shooting affray took place on McFarlane street this afternoon at 2:30, when the police were called to the scene. Alphonse Léonard shot Germaine Léonard in the cheek, seriously wounding him. Suise then shot at Léonard, and he fell, and then shot himself in the eye. He may not recover. The shooting took place in a "red light" district. When the gunners who were quarreling occurred, a woman of the underworld,

ROOSEVELT SAYS TAFT IS NOT PROGRESSIVE

The Colonel Breaks Record for Speeches in One Day, Campaigning Through Several Central Eastern Cities.

Louisville, Ky., April 4.—President Taft's statement that he is a progressive was disputed by Col. Roosevelt, who said that he was not a progressive. The former president said Mr. Taft in some of his acts had shown himself to be reactionary. In support of this contention, Col. Roosevelt went over the record of the present administration, and called attention to its reactionary policies and criticized it sharply. The colonel's speech came at the end of the first day of his week of campaigning through West Virginia, Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

In the evening he spoke for speeches for the present campaign, delaring fifteen yesterday. All but two were well attended, and the colonel received a large crowd and a cordial reception. The speech was well received and was delivered in an auditorium.

In the evening speech at Philadelphia, Col. Roosevelt said that Mr. Taft stated that he was a progressive and this raised the question as to what a progressive is. Col. Roosevelt gave his definition of a progressive on the basis of which he undertakes an analysis of the administration, and the colonel raised a number of questions. He took up the railway rate bill, enforcement of the antitrust laws, the coal tax question and other subjects which have engaged the attention of the administration.
